TOWN CRIER

By W. Gartrell

"O, beautiful for spacious skies, for amber waves of grain; tain majesties above the fruited plain; America, America, God shed His grace on thee,

And crown thy good with brotherhood from sea to shining sea."

-Katherine Lee Bates.

On Sunday in hundreds of churches throughout the United States, Citizenship Day was observed, espec ially in those centers where the foreign element is heaviest. There special emphasis was placed upon patriotism and loyalty to the adopted country. All this is well and good, but often the grateful emigre does the native scion in these things. In these days of divided houses, espionage and other numerous evils, the native-born American would do well to examine his own heart and make a few resolutions, mayhap in this wise; 'I am an American so-I will put no other country on earth will put no other country as a head of my own; I will not make treacherous and dastardly attacks upon my government, its laws, government, courts, or the judges who administer its laws; neither will I lend moronic support to these Fifth Column tactwhen practised by the "enemy within." but will unhesitatingly expose such chicanery; my oath of allegiance shall be more than lip-service and my patriotism more than party politics." Unity and brotherhood are prime essentials to national peace and security these days for, as Benjamin Franklin so truly said, "We must all hang together or, assuredly we shall all hang separate-

*Demas New Winner For Martin Vogel At Oaks Show

The Oaks Horse Show, held at Great Neck, L. I., last Sunday, May 19, provided its large audience with well filled classes. At the end of a day of close competition, in the ring and over the outside course, a new Hunter Champion was introduced in Martin Vogel Jr's *Demas. Reserve was Adrian C. ### Satilla Triumphs For Mr. Hitchcock In Belmont 'Cap

Son Of Sortie Defeats Field Of Six In 43rd International Steeplechase Handicap

Thomas Hitchcock's Satilla, making his first appearance since the Belmont fall meeting last year, returned to fulfill expectations there over the two mile brush course when, favorite in a field of six, the son of Sortie-Incentive came home winner of the 43rd running of the Inter-national Steeplechase Handicap on May 15. Parading to the post with Satilla in this feature stake which opened the Westchester Racing Association's brush activities were Walter M. Jefford's Warspite, who like Satilla had not started since Belmont's Grand National Steeplechase last October; Louis B. Mayer's veteran Ossabaw; C. Mahlon Kline's Tarbrush, a winner at Middleburg this spring; Rokeby Stable's Good Chance and Emile Pfizer's Farndale, top brush horse last year.

Good Chance and Farndale shared top-weight of 152 pounds, while Satilla toted 149. Ossabaw, with Jockey Mergler up at 151, was sent directly to the front to make a speedy pace while Satilla, under Jockey Scott's restraint, and Farn-dale, handled by Collins, were rated

Vassar Show Grows To 2 Day Victory For Chiropodist

By Louise McKinney

This year, the Vassar Horse Show grew into a two day event. This show, given under the auspices of the Rombout Hunt Club, was held May 18 and 19 at Greenvale Farms and withstanding the increasing pressure to offer money prizes remained completely an amateur affair. Trophies were the only prizes offered; the result being an atmosphere of informality and fun—with owners riding their favorite mounts to Hounds, and with horsemanship classes filled to overflowing.

The interest throughout the show was primarily centered in the Hunter classes. Here, the horses were sent over a completely natural outside course, meeting fences that would be found every day in the hunting field. early Sunday afternoon, evident that the Championship was between John Melville's Chiropodist and Miss Peggy Klipstein's old cam-paigner, Stepaside. Chiropodist, a beautifully moving 5-year-old, new to the shows, won the Lightweights and Corinthian and placed in the Ladies' and Hunter Hacks. This is

WASHINGTON SHOW

For the first time in several years Washington Horse Show, spon sored by the Junior League of the Capital City, enjoyed three made-toorder-weather days, so that there for the finale on Sunday, May 19, were several thousands to cheer Mrs. W. Haggin Perry's ride to the Championship on her Demopolis. A fresh young 5-year-old son of the late Ormont, of nice compactness and balance, Demopolis made his strongest bids for the tricolor, to best Mrs. George Watts Hill's Balkonian, the Reserve, in taking down the $500. Stake and the coveted Adm. Cary T. Grayson Memorial for Thoroughbreds.

The Working Hunter Division, which proved exceedingly popular with Exhibitors who thoroughly enjoyed the all Hunter and Jumper Show (the Saddle Division was dropped this year,) saw the personable little black mare Inky, of Mrs. Geo. Watts Hill's "Quail Roost Stables" account for another Championship

Sweepstakes Award At Watchung Show To Grey Simon

In the Sweepstakes, the last Hunter class at the Watchung Riding and Driving Club Horse Show on May 18 and 19 in Summit, N. J., the winners of 1st and 2nd were named Champion and Reserve. It was fortunate that these two horses, who had gone consistently throughout the two days, kept up their average to score in this slightly chancey way of selecting a Champion. First and Champion was Grey Simon, from the Holly Tree Farm of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Straus, and second and Reserve went to Maui Girl, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Lyman's honest bay mare. Lt. Morris's Danforth was third and these had been the top horses up to Sweepstake time.

Grey Simon started the show, his first this season, by winning the Model and Hunter Hack classes and then took a second to the powerful young chestnut son of *Dan The IV, Danforth, in a conformation class over the outside course. Grey Simon, beaten in his first however, was Sunday class, due somewhat to the fact that he had a rail down beby Maui Girl and Danforth

Doughoregan Manor Award To War Krem Over 110 Horses

There were two outstanding conformation Hunters in the 18th Doughoregan Manor Horse Show, held last Saturday, May 18, near Ellicott City, Md., in Victor M. Noyes' bay mare War Krem, Champ-ion Hunter of Maryland in 1939, and Miss Frances Warfield's Spank Me. On points and conformation, War Krem won the tricolor verdict and Spank Me took the Reserve as Courtland H. Smith and Maj. Turner Wiltshire of Middleburg judged.

Some 110 horses took part in the informal post-entried outing, the ring a delightful setting in a spacious big turf field in front of the big Manor house. The Champion, a Continued on Page Fourteen

Running In the Foxview Steeplechase As Tennessee Revives Amateur Jumping Racing

In the second running of the Foxview 'Chase, of 2¼ miles over a small brush course, on the George Schwab, Jr. Brentwood Estate, near Nashville, Tenn., Mr. Ernest Hardison, Jr. rode John Sloan's BANK ROBBER to victory. The son of HOURLESS—NO QUARTERS, by LAST COIN went the distance, with 15 jumps, in 4:45, against 5:13 in 1939, when Mrs. Con Thompson Ball's WELL SHOD, with Dr. John Youmans up triumphed. Pictured above, as the field took the 4th, are George Schwab, Jr.'s SWOB, pacemaker most of the race, with the riding reporter, Mr. Harrison Field (of the Cincinnati Times-Star) up; Thomas Bullitt's CORRUGATED, with Ed Lotze up (black bands on sleeves); Miss Nancy Houghland's NICCA, with her brother, Mr. Calvin Houghland up (to the right of CORRUGATED, approaching fence); Byron Hilliard's BIG BIRD, with Trainer-Rider Matt Hall up (near foreground); Dr. Youmans, (white cap over BIG BIRD'S quarters) who suffered a fall and broke his shoulder on WELL SHOD; the eventual winner, BANK ROBBER, with Mr. Hardison, Jr. (black cap); and MY AGENT, also owned by Mr. Hilliard. BRIDGET, part of Mr. Schwab, Jr.'s entry is not shown. Photo by Ed Clark, The Tennessean.

Bank Robber In Driving Finish, Sets Up Dust Screen In Winning Foxview Steeplechase

It had not rained in Tennessee for several weeks, when Mr. Ernest Hardison, Jr. rode BANK ROBBER to his second triumph in two weeks. In the drive for the place and show, Thomas Bullitt's CORRUGATED got up, with Edward Lotze riding, besting Miss Nancy Houghland's NICCA by a nose. Mr. Hardison, Jr. rode the first race of his career when he won The Green Pastures 'Chase on May 4, with BANK ROBBER. In both events, this young rider, who must wear glasses, turned in heady rides, laying off the pace until making his move, when his 10-year-old son of HOURLESS mount in each instance had plenty in reserve. It was reported that well over 2,000 turned out for this second Renewal, in which veritably all the starters were regular mounts to Hounds with Hillsboro or Iroquois Hunts. A 3 Mile Steeplechase will be run at Smyrna, Tenn., this Saturday, May 25.

Jockey S. Banks was on the class of the field in the Trillion Steeplechase, the opening day jumping event at Belmont, last Monday, May 13, when he banged home Mrs. Raymond Woolfe's first-time-starter, *KELLSBORO. With the background the gigantic double tiered grandstands, the 7-year-old son of JACKDAW is shown as he made every fence a winning one, though carrying 147 pounds. Rokeby Stable's GREENWICH TIME, No. 3, Bland up, is pictured here, but later fell. Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's FLYING LANCER, with Jockey Novak up, 135, is blanked out by *KELLSBORO. The 2 miles was run in 3:50 3-5. Note the dandelions and the verdant turf on the landing side of the water. Belmont is making every effort to keep the going lush for the 'chasers and the springy old turf has been allowed to grow long. Short cropping of the grass tends toward hard going and too quick a drying.

Bimelech's Breeding Provides Intriguing Proposition For His Future At Stud

BY EXTERMINATOR

Last Saturday the historic Withers Stakes was run at Belmont Park, and resulted in the second defeat of the season for Bimelech. The winner turned up in Corydon, bred, owned and raced by Mrs. Payne Whitney. Corydon would appear to 'e one more colt to add to the list of improving horses. His record as a two year old was far from brilliant, including fifteen starts and only one victory.

This lone win, however, was instructive in the date, distance and manner of achievement. The race was for maidens at Keeneland in October, at a mile and a sixteenth. The horses had gone nearly a mile when Corydon caught the leaders and drew away to win as he liked. This sort of colt, maturing slowly and giving good indications of stamina is a far better risk for three-year-old racing than the flashy sprinters who make such a great splash in the spring and early summer two-year-old stakes.

The time for the Withers was more than 1:37 for the mile. After going about a quarter of a mile Corydon was last, about eleven lengths behind the leaders. At the half, he was about six lengths back. At the turn into the short stretch, he caught them, and won going away. This record is less a commentary on the merit of Corydon than on the incapacity of the boys riding the front runners.

As a general thing, it is a safe assertion that no thoroughbred can give his best turn of speed for more than three furlongs. Yet in race after race our modern jockeys jump their mounts out of the gates and let them run their heads off until they stop stone cold a long way from the finish.

This race was something of a contrast to the Preakness the previous week, in that Bimelech was never able to get in front. He must have worn himself out fighting for the lead with Roman, a colt that could not go a mile in any case. It begins to look as though Bimelech does not like his races too close together. And regrettable as it is to have to face the fact, Bimelech probably has not made normal improvement from two to three years of age.

The Belmont Stakes, run June 8th over a distance of a mile and a half will give us a truer line on Bimelech's capacities than we have yet had. There is plenty of time for the colt to be freshened up. Unless there is a heavy or a cuppy track on the day of the race, Bimelech will show whether he is lacking in class and stamina or whether his defeats have been due to over-racing and staleness.

Regardless of the eventual stature Bimelech will come to have as a race horse...a little up or down from his present high level of excellence..he will be an intriguing proposition as a stallion. His sire, Black Toney, was a very remarkable stock horse, taking rank as one of the three or four best stallions in America during the last twenty years on the basis Continued on Page Fifteen

Dunade Captures Malden Feature From Be Jabbers

Son Of Dunlin Shows Earlier Florida Form In Opening Day At Suffolk Downs

Fanfare Farm's Virginia-bred Dunade scored his first northern handicap triumph this season when he conquered the Bud Lerner mare Be Jabbers after a hard fought mile and 70 yard battle for the Malden Handicap, opening day feature at Suffolk Downs last Monday, May 20. Though the 6-year-old son of Dunlin-Parade was unsuccessful in all of his four attempts at Narragansett recently, Dunade's latest performance showed a return to his earlier form during the Florida season when he accounted for both the Fort Dallas Park and the Coral Gables Handicaps at Hialeah in January, for he held his position close to the pacemaking Be Jabbers for three quarters of a then came strongly in the stretch, and outfinished the heavier weighted mare by a margin as they drove across the line four lengths before the favored Forever Prince. The Malden netted Dunade's owner

Once again a distance runner hailing from Virginia's Clarke County swept to victory on the West Coast when G. W. Lawless's Bonnie Sea, 5-year-old gelded son of the Walnut Hall stallion Messenger, two mile Caliente Cup Handicap at Agua Caliente on May 19. Following the example of Big Ed, son of the late Audley sire *Bright Knight, who set a new American record for two miles and a half at Santa Anita last February and later won both the Prep and International Championship Handicaps at Caliente, this later aspirant sped the two miles of the Caliente Cup in 3.26 3-5, just one and 3-5 seconds short of the track record.

Hugh Dufford's Torchlight, 5-year old Court Manor bred daughter of the *Traumer, scored her second victory this month when she sped 7 furlongs in 1.25 to take the Biggonet Handicap from Gustave Ring's good mare Lady Maryland at Bel-mont on May 16. Torchlight's three previous performances this year have not been unimpressive, for in her first outing on April 24 she was second to Circle M's Speed to Spare in the 6 furlong Mount Pleasant Handicap at Havre de Grace, then won a graded handicap at Pimlico on May 4 and was third in Pimlico's Carroll Handicap on May 9, behind Witchand Arden Lass.

H. Guy Bedwell's 2-year-old Blensign made his first appearance following his Ral Parr Stakes victory another triumph worthy of note when he stepped five furlongs of Belmont's Widener chute in .57 3-5, just one and 3-5 seconds off the track record, to annex the $1,200 Hurst Park Purse from Victor Emanuel's Omission by an easy two lengths. Recalling the one previous outing of his career when he made use of a Pimlico Stake to break his maiden, this Virginia-bred son of Blenheim—Design looms upon the 1940 juvenile horizon as one certain to command attention.

The first of this year's crop of 2-year-olds by the Middleburg sire My Broom scored his maiden victory at Detroit last Monday, May 20, outdistancing eight other non-winners for 4 1-2 furlongs. At nearby Charles Town, Ewart Johnston's locally bred Clay Hill, son of Mud, the sire who died last year on his return to Pennsylvania, turned in his maiden triumph over the 4 ½ furlong course on May 16, while over the same course on May 20, Mayfern, a daughter of the late Marylander Mowlee, racing for E. A. Nicodemus, accounted likewise.

The following list contains all winners by sires from Eastern Coast States which have scored during the past seven days, from Wednesday, May 15, through Tuesday, May 21.

Extra Pounds Better Than Inexperience So Long As Jockey Retains Nerve

BY J. FAIRFAX-BLAKEBOROUGH

At one or two race meetings recently the entries have been so big that some races have had to be divided and the customary 6 events extended to 8 or more. In other days it was not uncommon on narrow tracks for horses to be started in two lines...a front and rear rank. This was often necessary at the now defunct Northallerton Meeting, and about the same time we find in the conditions of a race at the Howth and Baldoyle meeting in Ireland:

"The horses to be started in two rows, 30 yds. apart. First row, horses that have never started for any race ridden by Professional Jockeys. All other horses to be in the second row."

When the late Bob Harper ended his career as a Steeplechase Jockey he was appointed Starter at a few fixtures. Once at Wetherby he had a big field—too big really for one race—and time after time he tried without success to get them into line. At last, in desperation, he shouted "Will those jockeys who are trying, line up here and I'll get you off?"

Reverting to the division of race this had to be done at both Fontwell Park and Stratford-on-Avon, where they had 8 races on the card. I should imagine there were more strangers at Stratford Races the othdo you get there?" Yet Stratford is a very old fixture and in normal times hundreds of Americans annually find their way to the little town without any difficulty, though it is to the shrine of Shakespeare rather than to the little Warwickshire jumping Meeting they go. They had racing at Stratford over a century ago, and it is interesting to mention that in 1840 the big race there (a Sweepstakes of £10 each with £60 added, 4 miles steeplechase) was won by Mr. Elmore's Lottery, which the previous year, had won the first Grand National. Bred by Jackson at Riston, near Hull, Lottery was sent with some more 4-year-old hunters to Horncastle, then one of the biggest horse-fairs in the country. John Elmore of Uxendon, near Harrow, (a prominent horse dealer) bought Lottery at this fair for £120, and Jim Mason, who rode him in most of his subsequent races, including the National, was originally Elmore's "nagsman", but as he schooled Lottery he was given the mount on him and developed into the most successful cross country rider of his day. He hailed from Peterborough and for long his line continued as Steeplechase Jockeys.

M. Beary, Joe Taylor, R. Perryman and others of the older school of Jockeys are piling up their successes. A well-known Trainer (himself a veteran) told me the other day on the way to a Race Meeting that he had three runners, that he fancied them all if he could get a Jockey to his liking. He had almost engaged

Mrs. Lee's Red Fox Sedgefield Victor With Four Blues

The Sedgefield Horse Show, held May 16-17-18, in six performances, afternoon and night, near Sedgefield, N. C., listed over 186 horses, including Hunters, Jumper and Saddle Divisions, Following his successive wins in the Middle and Heavyweight Corinthian and the Stake, Mrs. D. N. Lee's Red Fox, of Middleburg, Va. was awarded the Championship, with George Benoit's Sport Marvel, of Fredericksburg, Va., close up to take the Reserve.

Red Fox, who won four blues and with Sport Marvel made up the winning Hunt Team with Mrs. W. O. Mogs' Dark Secret the third horse, was ridden throughout by Aubrey Fishback, with the exception of the Ladies', when Mrs. Lee was up aside. The flashy chestnut turned in splendid performances, both in the ring and over the outside course, which was well over  $\frac{1}{2}$  a mile in length, demanding real working efforts.

Otto Furr, of Middleburg, went down to Judge and returned to report that the Sedgefield Show was decided success, magnificiently handled in a community alive with sporting interest of Hunter, Jumper and Saddle Horse activity in the Mile-Away Stable's Lady Durham proved the most consistent Jumper, as the little bay mare took the Open Stake, and was 3rd in the Touch and Out when Henkel and De Bow's Red Sails touched the last.

Considerable local interest was shown in Local Jumpers when Sedgefield Stable's Spot was the winner and in the Sedgefield Hunters when Welch Harris' Secret Call just beat out Earl N. Phillips (he Master of this Hunt) on his Spanish King as Charles L. Kearns' Brandywine was third.

Mill Creek Harriers Secure Five Couple English Hounds

Prentice Porter, M. F. H. Imports Hounds From Arthur Wilmot Of Somersetshire

In line with the Hunt's constant effort to improve the Mill Creek Harrier pack, S. Prentice-Porter, M. F. H. of Lake Forest, Ill., has anounced the good fortune of recently securing five couples from the Weston, England. Arthur M. Wilmot, Master of the Weston Harriers, who hunt some 150 square miles in the Somersetshire country of England in normal times, has long been known for his great working pack, which has been shown but on rare occasions.

Due to the War and the necessary curtailment of hunting, and the enforced reductions of foxhound and harrier packs throughout Great Britain, a number of American Hunts have benefitted in getting topnotch drafts from England. Mr. Wilmot, as have other Masters, has had to cut his pack right down to unentered Hounds and a few couple of old Hounds with which to enter the youngsters. As a result, Mill Creek Hunt has benefitted greatly, getting a five couple addition which are in no sense "draft" Hounds. In fact these recent imports number many Peterborough Show winners, when Mr. Wilmot last showed in 1938, and it is doubtful whether ten better Hounds of their inches have ever been imported.

The five couple of Weston Hounds recently received at the Mill Creek Kennels, near Milburn Ill., where Kennel Huntsman Joseph Jasper, (Prof.,) is kept busy with one of the levelest and fleetest Harrier fox-and drag-hunting packs in the world to-day, arrived in fine shape and include 5 dogs and 5 bitches.

Mr. Wilmot, in writing to Mr. Porter apropos the Mill Creek importations, stated that there were many more excellent opportunities for American Hunts to obtain top-hole Hounds. His plea is worthy of being quoted verbatim:

"Do you by any chance, know of anyone in your Country who will buy good Foxhounds. I have 2½ couple of Berkeley Hunt Bitches, and my neighbouring pack, the West Somerset, have an exceptional lot of good Hounds, and they are very anxious to reduce their number.

"Nearly all Masters in this Country put down their old Hounds at the beginning of last season, which was a very unpleasant job, and now they are faced with doing the same thing with their young ones, unless they are able to find another outlet for them"

Among the Weston Harriers re-

Entries To Close For Deep Run On Sunday

Entries for the 20th Annual Deep Run Horse Show, to be held Saturday and Sunday, June 1-2, close this Sunday, May 26, with Fred S. Campbell, Jr., Secretary.

All indications point to the 49class program being well filled with entries of quality.

Oliver Jackson Sands, Jr., Chairman of the Horse Show Committee, advises that all exhibitors are cordially invited to a buffet supper on the Club grounds immediately following the Saturday afternoon performance, June 1, to meet Members of the Deep Run Hunt Club.

Warrenton Holds 6th Gymkhana

The 6th Annual Warrenton Gymkhana scheduled for Saturday, May 25, is slated to be bigger and better than ever, with a more varied program than even last year's successful exhibition for the benefit of the Fauquier County Tuberculosis Assn. Through the courtesy of Miss Winifred Maddux, "Neptune Lodge" stable courtyard, in Warrenton, will be the setting.

The Gymkhana cards a program that runs the gamut from Baby Contests, Pony Classes, Hunter and Jumper events, to three-legged and old-fashioned automobile races. "For further details see your nearest neighbor," for the whole Warrenton Community is up in arms to make the Annual Benefit, under the Chairmanship of Mrs. William B. Streett, the most successful venture of the past half-a-decade.

ceived by Mill Creek, are a sparkling couple of dogs in Carver '34 and Charmer '37, who paired to win the Best Couple, over 19", at Peterborough in '38. Carver was the Champion Dog Hound at Peterborough that year. Another unusual dog is Hailstorm, '36, winner at Peterborough of the cup for the Best Hound, (not less than second season hunter, certified to have been the sire of liv-ing puppies. The same Hound can not win this cup and the Champion Cup in the same year). He was also one of the best couple of Entered Hounds not over 19". Hiker, '38 and Rascal, 39 are the other two of the five  $\ensuremath{\operatorname{dogs}},$  all of excellent conformation and tricolor marking.

Of the Bitches, Mill Creek has obtained Weston's Housemaid, '37, Champion Bitch at Peterborough '38, and Heedless '37, who paired with Housemaid to win the Best Couple there. Other Bitches include: Happy, '36, full sister to Hamilton, '36; Rasom, '38, and Hazel '39.

When The Chronicle had the pleasure of inspecting the Mill Creek Harrier pack last August, it is recalled that an ourstanding Stallion Hound there then was Weston's Remus, '34, by Weston Hercules '30-Weston Remedy '27, imported to America in 1938.

It is interesting to recall further that when Mr. and Mrs. Porter went to England in 1938 in search of a Stallion Hound, Mr. Eugene Reynal advised them that Mr. Wilmot might have the sort of dog they were looking for. Mr. and Mrs. Porter after lengthy consideration decided upon Remus, though Carver was the alternative, and he it was who went on to the Championship at Peterborough, after Remus had arrived in America in May.

schooling, so Jim Malone, who rides him, had him going and looking better at the Oaks. The story on this attractive young horse is that Mr. Vogel saw him in England and brought him back after he had won at five Shows over there. Charming Laddie is a big horse with a free swinging way of going, commendable manners under all circumstances and looks as if he would a nice one to ride. The Championshin preliminary brought-*Demas, Charming Laddie, Francis C. Charming Laddie to the fore.

The $300 Knockdown and Out Stake was a field day for the jumpers. So many horses had clean per formances at 4'-0" that practically all entries went over raised fences, which weeded it out to Frank T. Powers Kinnegad, Patrick McDermott's Pretty Good, and Dudley Brothwell's Kildare Sorcerer, and Brookside, all open horses of high reputation. Kinnegad was the first to decline the issue. Fat as a seal from a quiet winter he decided that enough was enough, but the other three went on and even after Sorcerer had jumped himself into a definite win over fences raised to 10" some claimed 6'-0" Brookside and Pretty Good, the big chestnut and the little half-bred hackney dun mare were still trying to outgame each other for second. crowd was with Pretty Good: she's scarcely more than a pony. After give ing due warning, Pretty Good felt the fences were getting too high and she finally turned in a score that was lower than Brookside's

The system of judging was interesting. Richard Carver, Gerard S. Smith, Thomas T. Mott and Mrs. James A. Hewlett gave decisions on both Hunters and Jumpers but they alternated so that only two of them, and seldom the same two, were in the ring at the same time. Several shows in which Hunters predominate adopting this system and it makes for varied and interesting de-

The Oaks show had a real back informal atmosphere, separate ring for the horsemanship classes, a straightaway outside course over natural country, and all the world and his wife came to see it and brought their children. The big field on the far side of the Rice Stables was packed with cars; they lined the ringside and srowded the neighboring elevations, and people watched the show with keen interest

The Working Division, included in the Prize List for the first time this year was an extremely success ful experiment. To be judged on performance, manners and way of ing only, in each case a true Working Hunter walked off with the blue. Perhaps the nicest win of the day was when Miss Barbara Tompkin's rode her mother's Popover to victory in the Middleweights. Neither the horse nor his rider, who had just previously won the McClay Trophy had ever seen a show ring before. Between them they turned in an outstandingly steady, workmanlike performance

Robin Hill, a big Heavyweight, shown under the colors of Fairfield and Westchester Hounds, won his Division; while Mrs. Allan A. Ryan's grand old hunter Jack McGee took the Lightweights. Meeting in the Championship, these last two were judged Champion and Reserve. It's good to see this type of horse compete and win in the show ring. All and winter they go steadily and honestly to Hounds: and this was their last outing before they are let down for the summer

Due to the close proximity of Vassar and Bennett Colleges, the Horse-manship classes were well filled and hotly contested. Miss Anne Elder, a Sophomore from Vassar won both the advanced classes. She is a beautiful horsewoman, quiet and easy on the young horses she rides; but time and again, she is turned down in horsemanship classes because of an extreme forward seat. This time, the judges recognized her ability.

A most exciting Open Jumping event was William Kay's Gold Trouble's clearing 5'-1" to win over Miss Peggy Klipstein's Red Rock and George Kaufmann's High Test.

for Middleburg is said to be in process of perfection. All is quiet, too, on the western front as regards the "To cut or not to cut" tree situation, after a dead heat was run Friday by the pros and cons with a representative from the State Highway Commission as referee. Owners of property along the right-of-way ran the gamut from complete indifference to a lively desire to see the project completed. Now the proposition is on the lap of the Highway Commission where it will, no doubt, remain for a long time.

ROSE TREE HUNT MEETING

Fighter's Saturday mark. Both winners carried the same 170 pound impost.

The Rose Tree races were again favored this year with sunny spring weather. On Wednesday, when a mid-week gathering of about 4,000 saw the racing, the going was hard and dry and a cloud of dust followed contestants up and down the slope as they traversed the famous dumbbell course. Thursday's showers made the going over the rich, green Rose Tree turf ideal for Saturday when 7,000 hunt meeting enthusiasts turned out to witness the 6 stirring events. Delaware County's refusal events. to permit the customary betting ring was a disappointment to many of the Rose Tree race-goers. The black boards and "High Odds" cries of the hunt meet bookies were not in evidence either day.

Many scratches, which included William J. Clothier's Henchman, winner of the Radnor Hunt Cup, and Mrs. Frank M. Gould's Black Sweep, winner of the Middleburg and Virginia Gold Cup, reduced the Gloucester Fox Hunters Plate field to Starter George R. four. Palmer. was not long in getting this small field away on their three and a half mile journey. At the break, it was *Faction Fighter who led away closely followed by Raymond Guest's Tiger Lane, ridden by Mr. Sidney H. Hirst, up in colors for his third race this spring, after an almost 3-year absence from the hunt meetings. Mr. P. Hamilton rated Charles S. Cheston's Reconsidered, the choice of many, who placed third in the Radnor Hunt Cup of the previous week, back in third place some four lengths off the leaders. Trainer-rider Mr. Evans Pancoast trailed the field up on S. Griswold Flagg, Jr.'s old campaigner, Outlaw.

Over the second post-and-rail in front of the stands, *Faction Fighter was leading by 2 lengths; but as the contestants rounded the upper turn and raced on back past the judges stand, Mr. Sid Hirst sent Tiger Lane up on even terms with the Rokeby Stables' son of Irish Battle. Over the 5th and down along the edge of the woods the pace increased and Raymond Guest's 5-year-old son of *Tom Tiger—Betty Lane, making his third start over timber this year, led the veteran *Faction Fighter over the 6th by almost a length. Mr. Sidney Watters up on the J. E. Ryan trained did not relinquish the early lead for long, however, for when the timber toppers came into view over the 7th, after rounding the bottom turn, this combination once more showed the way.

As the field completed the first circuit of the Rose Tree course and headed for the 8th fence (the 1st fence the 2nd time around), *Faction Fighter, setting a good, steady pace, led Tiger Lane by about 2 lengths. Reconsidered, who had been jumping well and running easily, rated back some ten lengths off the leaders by Mr. R. P. Hamilton, never appeared even to attempt to rise at this small stake-and-bound obstacle. Hitting hard with his chest he stood on his head, tearing down a full three panels of fence in this crashing fall which ripped a set of blinkers right off his head. Both horse and rider were uninjured in this crumpler.

Meanwhile Mr. Pancoast was perservering with Outlaw, a distant third. As the leaders raced on past the crowded grandstand over the 9th and 10th, The Gloucester Fox Hunters Plate had developed into a two horse race, with *Faction Fighter, the class of the field, making the pace, and Tiger Lane, a promising maiden, who had fallen in his two previous starts at Warrenton and Middleburg, rated in second place always in a contending position. *Faction Fighter hooked the 11th always in post-and-rail very hard when leading by 4 lengths. Mr. Watters kept his seat and had the year-old son of Irish Battle-Pride of the Cottage running on again to maintain his advantage. Over the 13th *Faction Fighter hit hard again but was never knocked out of his stride. Tiger Lane was fencing in fine form and out-jumping the Rokeby entry over almost every timber barrier, but *Faction Fighter held his lead with a long, powerful stride.

From the 13th through the 20th *Faction Fighter maintained a lead ranging from 2 to 6 lengths. It could easily be seen, as the two contest-ants made the third and final circuit of the course, that Tiger Lane was beginning to tire, but Mr. Sid Hirst drove the *Tom Tiger gelding on and, at the 20th fence, was only five lengths off the leader. Mr. Evans Pancoast had moved a little closer to the pace with Outlaw. After jumping the 21st, with nothing but the broken last stake-and-bound to accomplish, Mr. Sidney Watters let the Rokeby Stable color bearer out a bit. With speed in reserve, the very fit *Faction Fighter pulled away strongly to finish in hand some 30 Continued on Page Nine her first of 1940. The Apprehension daughter, whose consistent fencing and splendid way of going wins her many an award, was closely pressed in the Working by Springsbury Farm's versatile and hard worked Billy Do. While Inky was amassing 5 blues, in Working events as well as the Corinthian, when stable-mate Balkonian was second and in both the Ladies' Conformation and Working Hunters, Billy Do was accounting for 3 blues what with other rewards in Open Jumping.

The Jumping Championship was rather an anti-climax, when Miss Nancy Marie Shaw's Huntley Glen succeeded over Dr. and Mrs. Walter T. Kees' Lew Dunbar, who struck himself on Friday and had to be withdrawn from further competition. Lew Dunbar is a striking big thoroughbred son of *Royal Canopy who accomplishes his fences with precision-like springs. Huntley Glen is a priceless child's hunter capable of getting over 6'-0" in Skyscraper jumping. But for a change of riders, this mare's rewards might have been Gardner Hallman riding his own Lady Jack took the Skyscraper at 6'-0" and turned in a brilliant performance, while in other Open Classes, Harry Jones' Sanoj ran away around the big ring to win the Triple Bar and then Miss Peggy Mills, better acquainted with her own gelding Gossip, won the Touch and Out on the final day, when Capt. Kenneth Hoge was up on his Broom-

The Show, held on the Meadowbrook Grounds, near Chevy Chase, Md., benefitted greatly in the outside course layout, the brainchild of Show Directors; Miss Deborah Rood and Fenton M. Fadeley. Spectators could see the Hunters throughout their circuits and get a real feel of their way of going. The in-and-out was directly across the farside of the course, a happy solution for both Hunters and spectators.

With over 900 entries, the Show got under way on Friday, with all three Judges: Manley W. Carter, Col. Sloan Doak and Augustus Riggs, called out for the Model selection at 9 A. M. and the three arbiters were in the ring for all Stakes and Championships. Mrs. Hill's Balkonian, who took but one other ribbon, (2nd in the Corinthian), prior to the Preliminary Championship, was stood on top of the 22 Models, including Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Whitney's Bon Diable, 1939 winner. Balkonian, now 6, has put on  $\operatorname{muscl}_{\mathfrak{S}}$  and pounds since last fall. He defeated Mr. and Mrs. Perry's To Victory and Mrs. Sally Jones Sexton's Bryn Du Farm's Jitney Jingle, a very promising 4-year-old son of Bad Bill, and Robert S. Water's Royalty II, in order.

The large number of fresh young Hunters out contesting, many for their first season, was a joy to behold. These included Christopher M. Greer's Jr's Highland Ace, whom he rode to a Hunter Hack Suitable win and who scored in the Green over 3'-6" Mr. and Mrs. Perry's Bo Bend winner of 2nd. in the Green and Limit and their To Victory, who Modeled well and won the Open; Mrs. Austin Jennings' Rascal, who wore the Lightweight blue and Limit to, as well as the Working Hunter Stake 3rd, ribbon, when Inky and Billy Do topped him; and U. S. Randle Stables' Gee Ray Bee, second to Bryn Du Farm's Jitney Jingle in the

Novice, when Rascal came up third. Mrs. Hills' Inky, Balkonian and Lucky Buck are a rare trio. Trained by the Quail Roost Stable Manager Delmar Twyman, these three are top performers with either Miss Sue Fuller or himself riding. They represented the winning Hunt Team at Washington and made a well balanced showing throughout, frequently backing up a stablemate's win with another ribbon, as Lucky Buck did, taking 4th., in the Working to Inky; a 2nd., in the Lightweight, a 4th., to the winning Inky in the Working Open to All; a 6th., in the Working Stake to Inky again; and again in the Ladies' Conformation Hunters. taking a 4th., to Inky's blue, as well as a 3rd. to Inky's win in the Amateurs' Working.

Frederick M. Warburg's Battle Day, a regular of Middleburg and Piedmont Hunts turned in some splendid performances and but for some signs of hunting usage would possibly have won more ribbons. The big 17.1 son of War Whoop was 2nd in the Grayson Memorial, as a splendid type. The fine jumper in Faithful Heart, home-bred daughter of Valorous, was 3rd for Mrs. Whitney. Royalty II won his one class in the Middle and Heavyweight. This big War Whoop son was not doing his best over the fences. In his blue he bested Mrs. Whitney's veteran Bon Diable, and Battle Day, as Miss Deborah G. Rood's promising Ronilad was 4th.

In accounting for the Washington Championship. Demopolis added his second Tricolor to his accomplishments this year, having stepped out to win the Virginians' Show in February in Camden. He had previously found the Meadowbrook Show grounds to his liking when as a 4-year-old, last Sept. 30, '39, he won the Columbus Horse Show Championship, which was actually awarded, following his final ribbon winnings, at Fort Myer, when weather moved this event indoors.

ROSE TREE HUNT MEETING

lengths ahead of Tiger Lane who in turn was about 25 ahead of Outlaw. Mr. Sidney Watter's Jr., who had a leg up on Mrs. Reginald Sinclaire's Old Dom when the W. Hayhurst trained son of Prince Galahad won the Glen Riddle Plate, Wednesday's mile and a half flat event, scored a riding triple at the Rose Tree meeting when he rode Mrs. Jane Fowler Bassett's Herroro to victory in the mile and a half hurdle race for the Major Henry Reed Hatfield Plate. Hurdle racing was introduced at Rose Tree for the first time this year and proved very successful. A field of 6 paraded for this event and Herroro, never worse than third at any time during the running, came from behind to win easily by 10 lengths ahead of D. B. Barrow's Quaker-street, who bested Richard K. Mel-oln's *Escape 3rd by a similar margin. Roscoe Jones' Rum Boy, the speedy early pacemaker, tired badly and came down very hard over the 5th of 6 hurdles with J. Monogue who suffered a broken collar bone from the fall, Mr. Sidney Watters, Jr., scored a double victory in this event for he is now training Mrs. Bassett's 12-year-old son of George Smith-Electrify, who, in seven seaon's campaigning at the hunt meetings, has only run unplaced on four Wednesday's racing featured the Bayard Taylor Plate, a post-and-rail test for maidens and winners of one. Of the four that accepted the issue, Edward M. Cheston's Coq Noir, the winner of the Whitemarsh Old Fashioned Point-to-Point, and Radnor's maiden timber race for the Christian Hagen Memorial Trophy, was the strong favorite. At the drop of the flag it was Mr. Sidney H. Hist upon Dr. Lewis M. Allen's Gulfelano, and Mrs. Lang Fewler Bussett's working Mrs. Jane Fowler Bassett's working hunter, Pipe Of Peace, trained and ridden by Mr. Sidney Watters, Jr. who went to the front Owner-rider, Mr. Perry Benson, kept his *Coq Gaulois mare, Lady Empyreal in third place; and Mr. R. P. Hamilton to rate Coq Noir well off the pace during the early stages of the

For the first turn of the field it was Gulfelano, making his fourth start within two weeks, who showed the way, closely followed by Pipe Of Peace, a first time starter, and Lady Empyreal, who placed second to John Strawbridge's Bungtown and led home the Radnor Hunt Cup win ner, Henchman in the Harston Cup race at Whitemarsh, As the small field completed the first circuit of the course and headed for the 9th post-and-rail (second time past the stands) Mr. Sidney Watters sent Pipe Of Peace to the front, Mrs. Bas-sett's 6-year-old Transmute gelding was jumping well and making a very impressive showing in this, his first race between flags. Mr. R. P. Hamil-ton had moved Coq Noir up past Lady Empyreal, much closer to the

At the 11th, Gulfelano, who had been rapping most of the timber barriers, hit very hard carrying a stout chestnut rail with him. In run down the hill and over the 13th along the edge of the woods, it was Coq Noir who swiftly moved up on even terms with the leaders. Edward M. Cheston's strong going son of *Coq Gaulois-Colleen pulled away easily around the bottom turn and over the 14th fence to a 6 length lead. Mr. Sidney Watters and Pipe Of Peace furnished the main contention as the 'chasers commend ed the third turn of the three and a half mile course. At the 16th post-and-rail in front of the grandstands Coq Noir only led Mrs. Bassett's color bearer by a length. Gulfelano was beginning to tire a little, but held on gamely only 4 lengths further Down the back stretch the last time, it was Coq Noir who showed the way, Although Mr. R. P. "Dick" Hamilton chose to rate the strong going black son of *Coq Gaulois steadily along only some 5 lengths in the lead, it was easy to see that the rest of the field could not seriously threaten the powerful moving year-old gelding. After jumping the 20th, Coq Noir pulled away to a commanding lead and fenced in excellent form over the last to win by 10 lengths without being extended. Edward M. Cheston's Coq Noir is a timber horse to be reckoned with in any company. He is a beautiful mover, a good jumper, and in his three winning starts this spring has never been seriously threatened.

The finish for second honors in the Bayard Taylor race was an exciting contest. Coming to the last stake-and-bound fence, Mr. Sid Hirst drove Gulfelano up on the inside past Pipe Of Peace to lead by a length. Dr. Allen's 10-year-old son of St. Henry swerved hadly and rapped hard, loosing ground with Mr. Sidney Watters driving Pipe Of Peace into the lead for the short stretch run, Gulfelano recovered and under a good ride by Mr. Sidney H. Hirst came on again to just nose out Pipe Of P<sup>c</sup>ace for the place. Lady Empyreal, never a contender after the first turn of the field, finished fourth some 6 lengths further back

Morris H. Dixon, whose training harge, Mrs. Marion H. Mackenzie's Monk's Shadow, came from behind under a good ride by Jockey H. Grant to win the Hunting Hill Plate, a six furlong sprint, by a head from R. L. Parish's pace-making Mermess, completed his Rose Tree double when 4-year-old filly, Beach Maiden, with W. Passmore up, scored a surprising victory in the Rose Tree Plate, the two and a half mile feature brush 'chase on Saturday's racing card. In very light at 132 pounds the beautiful bay daughter of Longworth from the Redding Furnace Farm of Arthur Pew, who placed third to Mr. Dixon's Eurus in her first and only start at Radnor, broke on top, jumped well, and was never headed, to win in the very good time of 5:44. J. G. Leiper, Jr's Corky, carrying top weight of 155 pounds and Bagpipe, the class of the field of seven, ridden by his new owner Mr. Whitelaw Reid, in the saddle for his second race, furnished the main contention.

Beach Maiden withstood repeated challenges to win by a length and a half from Corky who was ridden out by Mr. F. H. Powers, Jr., to save the place by a head from the fast closing Bagpipe. This grey 6-year-old son of Royal Minstrel, who formerly ran in the sapphire blue and emerald green colors of Gwladys Whitney, showed his class and ran an excellent race without much help. Under a good ride he would have undoubtedly won by at least 10 lengths. Mr. Whitelaw Reid, however, deserves a great deal of credit for his first ride over a brush course. What steeplechasing needs is more enthusiastic amateur sportsmen like Mr. Reid. They make the winning gentlemen riders of to-

Mrs. Reginald Sinclaire of Larkspur Colorado was the proud win-ning owner of Wednesday's two mile steeplechase when her Yemasee, the only 'chaser ever to head Brooks Parker's Court Time in the previous week's running of the National Hunt Cup at Radnor, trained and ridden by W. Hayhurst, made every post a winning post to best the efforts of Morris H. Dixon's Eurus, with jock-ey R. Jones up, for the Corinthian Plate. It was a four horse race after the 3rd fence, where Mrs. Willing Bromley's *Shot Gun, ridden by Mr. R. P. Hamilton, and Bottle Boy with Mr. Henry Cadwalader, his owner, up, both fell. Morris H. Dixon's 7year-old son of *Sickle provided the main contention from that point on, and at the head of the stretch seemed to be overtaking Mrs. Sinclaire's former Hitchcock 'chaser, W. Hayhurst, however, drove Yemasee up the long, sloping finish to win by four lengths. Eurus just managed to nose out R. V. N. Gambrill's Tioga for the place when the R. G. Woolfe trained closed ground rapidly in a belated rush.

Mrs. Sinclaire scored a double on Wednesday as did trainer W. Hayhurst when Mr. Sidney Watters Jr., rode her Old Dom in his third straight victory in a week to capture the Glen Riddle Plate, about one mile and a half on the flat by the small margin of a length. The 6-year-old son of Prince Galahad had been victorious in both distance races at Radnor just the week before, On Saturday Mrs. Sinclaire's good gelding had to give 19 pounds to Thomas H. Kov. Jr's Headmistress in the Stayers' High Weight Handicap for ama teur riders at the same distance. In the final furlongs the 5-year-old Petee Wrack-Gallant Lady mare. under a well judged ride by Mr. E. H. "Tiger" Bennett, came from be-hind to win by 5 lengths in 2:47, two seconds slower than Old Dom's Wednesday time with the going compar-

In Saturday's mile test over the turf for the Rose Valley Plate, Mr. F. H. Powers, Jr. rode Gwladys Whitney's Roustabout to an easy 6 length victory over Mrs. Charles S. Bromley's Brannon, booted by jockey H. W. Clements. This was the second successive victory for this team, who only the week before had defeated Richard K. Mellon's promising 3-year-old *Pick Of The Circus gelding Mark Right in the Featherfield Plate over the same distance at Radnor. Mrs. Morris H. Dixon's Hardihood, the early pace maker, ridden by W. Passmore, tired badly to finish 6th in the field of nine.

REVIEWING THE HUNTERS IN TIMBER RACING

One of the best Spring Timber seasons in several years at the Hunt Meetings came to a close with the Rose Tree fixture last Saturday. The following statistics are interesting:

	No. of	No. of	No. of	No. Failed
Year	Meetings	Timber Races	Starters	To Finish
1938	12	20	96	23
1939	11	18	85	28
1940	11	16	106	29

The above figures are based on timber racing at Meetings held under the auspices of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Assn., from Sandhills through Rose Tree, and do not include Point-to-Points of the old-fashioned denomination, with the exception of the Foxhunters Challenge Race run this year at the Grand National Point-to-Point Meeting in place of the old Churchville Cup. and the Whitemarsh Invitation Cup.

Whereas the number of races over timber held this spring were two less than in 1939, twenty-one more runners were seen in action and only one more failed to finish, bespeaking a very much improved class of jumpers. This improvement should be greeted by American racing enthusiasts with very real enthusiasm.

To keep the ball rolling for timber racing, Owners, Riders and Race Committees have been constantly alert to any changes to encourage the sport. It is a sport that needs backing of the very best American sportsmen, for there is little financial inducement to running timber horses. The only real inducement is the sporting nature of the race itself and this is as it should be, for timber racing must remain an amateur game.

One of the most significant moments of the past Spring's timber racing was the field of nine Hunting-Hunters which attempted to turn back Block-cade's retiring effort in the Maryland Hunt Cup. These nine Hunters challenged the great son of Man o'War, especially prepared for this effort, pressed him to the very finish and all but one stood up to accomplish the big course. Reconsidered was the lone one to fail and this Hunter galloped away from his lost rider following a refusal. Eight hunters from the fox-hunting fields had gone the Maryland with hardly a fault over the twenty-two big fences.

The result of the Maryland was in great contrast to the outcome of the Virginia Gold Cup the week later, when seven went postward to run over smaller "streamlined fences". But two finished, Black Sweep, the winner, and Or Else, both of whom had been in the Maryland the previous week. The following week at Radnor witnessed a complete contradiction of this comparison, when a field of eleven went forth over twenty-six "streamlined fences" and the same distance of four miles and all stood up. But in this instance, bad mistakes broke flimsy rails and helped keep horses in the running.

Race Committees devised the "streamlined fences" several years ago in an endeavor to prevent small fields. As the result of leaning these fences, the pace over such courses has increased, and likewise, falls, as horses have tended to put in little short strides without checking their speed, and when hitting, if the rails do not break, they come down. It would seem that the "streamlined timber" has not produced the desired results, unless all courses install brittle hurdle panels as some of the Radnor fences proved and as was true at Middleburg in 1939, when Black Sweep won. Appreciating that over eighty per cent of the fifty horses who ran this Spring in timber races were out of the current foxhunting fields, the logical solution seems to be to restore the normal up-right post-and-rail hunting field fences. These fences proved more satisfactory in the Maryland, the Grand National Point-to-Point and the Whitemarsh Meetings.

Reviewing further the recent Spring timber season, it is interesting to note that but six horses contending were horses who are kept strictly for timber racing. Of these, Black Sweep won the Middleburg Cup and the Virginia Gold Cup; *Faction Fighter won the Carolina Cup and the Gloucester Fox

Hunters Plate; *Escape III won the Deep Run Hunt Cup and Blockade The Maryland, while Comonhome and Home Sweet Home were not credited with triumphs. Black Sweep, however, was a Hunting-Hunter of the previous season

The balance of the timber races were won by Hunting-Hunters, as Postman Home won the Sandhills Cup; Monty R., My Lady's Manor; Myrmidon, the John Rush Streett Memorial and the Grand National Point-to-Point; Clifton's Gem, the Foxhunters Challenge Plate; Bungtown, the Harston Cup; Henchman, the Radnor Hunt Cup; and Coq Noir, the Whitemarsh Invitation Cup, the Hagen Memorial and the Bayard Taylor Plate.

It is most encouraging to find this number of Hunting-Hunters racing over timber successfully. For more such Hunters one must turn to the hunting field and with some one hundred and thirty Recognized Hunts, averaging at least thirty Hunters each, these 3,900 Hunters should certainly form a further nucleus for timber racing if but the proper inducement could be offered.

The best possible sporting competition that could be imagined for timber racing might well be to have Hunts entering timber horses with the name of the Hunt printed in the program alongside the name of the horse and the owner's name. If this were done, it might be necessary to make one of the conditions for all timber events be that the horse to qualify as a starter must have been a bona fide Hunter with Hounds.

After all, the reason for timber racing is to test the respective merit of Hunters over natural American country. Why not insist that horses running over timber are timber horses in the real sense of the word? If this were done, then the way would be open for every timber race to be a contest among the Recognized Hunts of North America, as to which had the best Hunter. Members of Pickering Hunt would have been well pleased with the win of William J. Clothier's Henchman at Radnor, had he been entered in the name of his Hunt, likewise would have Warrenton Members had Mrs. Stewart Spilman's Postman Home run as a Warrenton Hunt representative, to which he was justified, as he had spent the season as the Honorary Whipper-in's mount, and even so with L. A. Randall's Monty R. of Howard County when he won the My Lady's Manor and beat Blockade.

There could be further, a prize given by all the Recognized Hunts for the Hunt whose Hunters won the major number of timber races through a season. This trophy could be presented at the Masters of Foxhounds Dinner or at some other suitable occasion. The great thing about timber racing is that it is helping keep the Amateur Foxhunter interested in steeplechasing and it is upon this 'cross-country gentleman that much depends for the continuance of all sport between the flags.

Clowns At The Circus

Dear Sir:

May 20, 1940

May 20, 1

Your paper has been recommended to me as a friend of racing through the field and for that reason I am writing to ask if there is not something that can be done about the attitude which the average turf writer takes towards steeplechasing. As a whole they treat these races as though they were, like the parade of the clowns at a circus, not to be taken too seriously.

Favorites won three of the five races, during the first week at Belmont. Of the other two one was won by a second choice and the favorite finished second in the other. Meanwhile, on the flat, the usual average prevailed, some sixteen favorites rewarding their backers in forty-two

Naturally, under the circumstances the betting on the steeplechases is not impressive, yet the cut on the $205,434 that went through the mutuels on these five races will make a profit on the purses.

If the public could be made to realize that steeplechasers are consistent race horses and not just amiable animals who are allowed to play in the infield because their owners are such nice people, it would seem probable that they would part with their money as readily as they do on unknown 2-year-olds and cheap selling platers.

If this subject interests you I would be glad to compile the figures

Gentlemen:

Speaking of the race between the pig and the horse in England, that you published last fall, I saw a story in a recent issue of the New York Daily News of a a race in Louisiana

Bimelech Was 7 To 5

The Chronicle, Middleburg, Va.

Gentlemen:

Congratulations on your good paper which I read and enjoy thoroughly every week.

I should like to point out a minor, though non-the-less noticeable error in the opening paragraph of Exterminator's article in which he states that Bimelech, the Preakness winner, 'started at odds of 2 to 5". Bradley's good, though sometimes disappointing, son of Black Toney was favorite for the Preakness despite his Derby defeat of the week previous, but at a longer price than Exterminator states. The final quotation flashed to and recorded in outlying horse rooms was 7 to 5 on Bimelech and the mutual pay-off listed in official Associated Press charts was $3.80 or 9 to 10 as the bookies used to call 'em.

All of which, perhaps means little except that one Valley horseman scans your excellent weekly with much pleasure and a critical eye.

Very truly yours,

JEROLD B. FOLAND. Emerson Hall,

between a pig and a farm horse. This horse also carried two riders over one mile across country. The pig won. Instead of herring, the pig was trained on sweet potatoes.

We have a pig, a 6-year-old, long legged, black-spotted, red pig, which follows the horses down to the track and back daily, a distance of 2½ miles. We are thinking of racing him but he likes neither herring nor sweet potatoes. He runs for the fun of it. He is not fast, as yet, but he is along back of him. Despite a bad landing at the 4th fence, Ossabaw held his lead and was not overhauled until the very last stages. Good Chance moved up at the end of the first mile to displace Satilla for a time, but could not withstand the pace, while Tarbrush faltered after a brief spurt a few fences from home. Over the final fence it was still Ossabaw, but Satilla was coming fast and wore him down in the last strides to lead across the finish by about two lengths. Ossabaw was another four lengths in front of Farndale while behind him in order were Tarbrush and Good Chance. Warspite was cut down in the running and pulled up lame.

This makes the fourth cent years that Mr. Hitchcock has won The International. It was twice in succession, in 1934-35, that Mr. Rigan McKinney won it in the famous green silks on Amagansett and in 1937 Rioter was the winner, Jockey Scott up.

The greatest of all the present Hitchcock 'chasers came into his own again on Tuesday last and it was a familiar sight to those hearkening back a couple of years to see *Annibal leading his field down the the stretch at Belmont, this time as the grey son of Chubasco-Alliance won the Charles L. Appleton Steeplechase. It was the first time, however, that *Annibal had appeared without his equally famous compatriot Mr. Rigan McKinney aboard since 1937 and in that interval the two accounted for six out of ten starts and over $22,000.

Annibal in Monday's two mile stake and, despite his top burden of 154 pounds, the 7-year-old French bred gelding soundly trounced the favored Galsac, Greentree's recent winner, by an easy four lengths. Some five lengths further away for the show was F. Ambrose Clark's *Bachelor Phillip while badly outdistanced b hind were C. Mahlon Kline's Fillip II and John Hay Whitney's Button Button. Fillip II who unrolled the early pace at some speed and then tired, was making his first appearance on the big tracks, though he has been seen at the Hunt Meetings both here at Middleburg and last week at Radnor.

*Annibal was rated steadily along back of the field during the early running and did not make his move until after Galsac had taken over command and the last fence was in view. *Bachelor Phillip was challenging Galsac for his lead and appeared to be coming strongly on the inside, but, nearing the 12th and final fence, *Annibal moved up on the outside, took over the lead and drew away from then on. A bad landat this last fence slowed up *Bachelor Phillip and hindered his chances for the place.

both. That left the Sweepstakes, and one working class in which Grey Simon was not entered, which went to Maui Girl. In the final analysis Grey Simon had the best conformation, although the mare outperformed him, so the conclusion may have been the same under the modern manner of awarding Championships.

Winner of the most points in the Jumper Division was N. Krupnick's Hallmark, who seemed to be in the ribbons somewhere in every class and Reserve went to Dr. E. J. at the end of the Belmont meeting, including the racing at Pimlico, and, what's more, I'll wager the price of a two year subsription that the steeple chasers run more true to form than the flat horses. It is a shame to take such a commercial attitude towards a splendid sport, but public backing would be a big boon to steeplechasing, and in order to attain this the people who educate the public, namely the turf writers, will have to be

Horse Nonsense

Letter to the Editor

May 14, 1940

Dear Chronicle:

Can you, as publishers, suggest any way I might obtain copies of a most amusing small book entitled "Horse Nonsense." One of the authors was a Yeatman, I believe, but I can obtain detailed information as to author & publisher, if desired.

The book is now out of print, but is so unusually funny I'd like to get several copies for Xmas gifts, etc. It. was loaned me while I was abed with a broken back and I nearly fractured a few ribs laughing at it. Is there any way of inducing publishers to print more copies at a modest figure?

Thank you very much for any information you can give me.

The Chronicle continues to be a favorite magazine with me.

All best wishes! Elizabeth McSherry

Pearsall's Recall Gallopade Champion

North Carolina's Gallopade Horse Show, held at Rocky Mount on May 1 and 2, had an imposing entry list numbering over eighty-five performers, many of which were outstanding hunters and jumpers. Thomas J. Pearsall's 6-year-old chestnut geld-ing Recall was awarded the Hunter Championship, following the second day's Champion Hunter Preliminary, in which such other good ones as Tate Brothers' Virginia Girl and W. O. Moss's Lady Durham were eliminated, leaving but one other competitor, Mr. Moss's Dark Victory, to retain the eventual Reserve.

Acclaimed one of the most spectacular jumpers of the show Lady Durham, who was pinned Open Jumper Champion. This black mare from Southern Pines was the winner of the Knock Down and Out Stake, the Handy Jumping and the Corin-thian, colorful outside course event. Lady Durham's stablemate Moon Fixer defeated her in the other Knock Down and Out class, for the Gallopade Trophy, while she was second. A Virginia horse, Kildare, owned by Irving B. Kline of Norfolk, was Reserve to Lady Durham as a result of his excellent performance in the $100 Open Jumping Stake, which he was placed above the Moss the rider he wanted, but retainers and possible calls from Owners and Trainers whom Jockeys cannot well refuse, often make it difficult for them definitely to promise to ride for stables which only occasionally ask for their services. The Trainer with whom I travelled interested me much when he said:

"I'd far rather my horses carried an extra pound or two to get a level headed, strong, older Jockey who will do as he is told, than claim the allowance and put up most apprentices. In my time I've had a good many races thrown away by little boys who either lose their heads, or are not strong enough to hold their horses together and ride a finish. I quite admit that all Jockeys must have opportunities to gain experience but I don't want fancied horses of mine to act as schoolmasters in public. So long as an old Jockey retains his nerve and dash it is my opinion he'll get more out of a horse and be able to give more helpful information as to the animal he has ridden, than the average light boy who, more often than not has been merely a passenger."

M. Beary, of course, is no novice for he commenced to ride in public in 1913. He has a Derby, Oaks, St. Leger, Cambridgeshire and Cesarewitch to his credit and has by no means finished yet .. indeed, in the opinion of many he is riding better than ever. What's more he goes just s well to Hounds over a stiff country as he does on a racecourse.

It is twenty-six years since the always cheery Yorkshireman, Joe Tayrode his first winner. He is the eldest of three brothers who all became Jockeys, Joe being apprenticed to J. Dawson. At Edinburgh in 1925 Joe rode three winners in one afternoon and did likewise on the same course in 1928 and 1931. At the re cent Stockton fixture he also did "the hat trick". This reminds me that when someone congratulated Joe at Stockton he asked what the term "hat trick" really meant and I was appealed to. In the old days of cricket, taking three wickets with three consecutive balls entitled the bowler to a new hat at the expense of the club.

Dick Perryman was born near London in 1901. He served his apprenticeship with F. Leader and one fact I have noted particularly in connectfon with his riding..he rarely ever uses the whip. It was Fred Archer who admitted that the whip had lost him more races than it had helped daughter of Kremlin, has been content to win small one-day-Show awards. She is a sensational jumper, always well up over her fences, a top lightweight with compactness, rugged with deep substance mooth action, she tops it all off with ideal manners. She could win in her Division in any sort of competition this observer believes. Spank Me is outstanding, one of the best hunters seen in some time, a smooth-moving good-jumping sort, but he tired and his performances suffered later in

All classes were well filled. The MacDonough School Military students turned in the best team performances, in the Pairs and the Hunt Teams to win the awards. This School's Toots is a remarkable jumping pony, winning the Touch and Out, second in the Open to All, which was won by Mrs. Diane D. Beecher's Peter Pepper, and later went on to take a 2nd in the Qualified Hunters over a long outside course won by War Krem.

Charles Freeland's Limerick Lace

him to win. Time and time again one sees horses swerve, become unbalinced and change their legs when Jockeys lift their whips.

Tod Sloan, (derided when he first arrived here from America), went to the top of the Jockey Profession because he broke away from most of the old English ideas as to race riding. When he came to England the whip was much in use. Indeed, in "British Sports" W. H. Scott (one of John Lawrence's aliases) quoted the instructions given to a jockey named Barnes. These were:
"Make him win, or cut his b.

entrails out. It you don't give him his belly full of whip, you'll never ride for me again. I'll find horse if you find whip and spur.'

Here is what poor, misguided, conceited but clever Tod Sloan said:

"The whip can be of use if properly applied, but it can be a stopper to a horse. The one great advantage for any Jockey who knows how to handle the whip is that an animal can frequently be kept straight."

The great Admiral Rous (known as "The Dictator of the Turf") agreed with this for he said "Three great races were thrown away by a celebrated young Jockey, because could not wait and would flog his horse. Thousands of races are won by a judicious pull. And hundreds are lost by the abuse of whip and spur."

of any objective test of merit. His dam, La Troienne, has had five run-ners to date, all five of which have been winners, and four of which have heen stake winners, including the great filly Black Helen, the Selima Stakes winner Big Hurry, and the present three-year-old, Bimelech.

Both sire and dam have been producers of a uniformly high order of excellence. On the theory that like begets like, it would be surprising if Bimelech in his turn did not become a sire of high standard in keeping with the record of both his parents and in keeping with his own great racing ability.

Two other cases come to mind which are like Bimelech's case, in that both sire and dam were proved producers of high quality, where their offspring having proved high class race horses are taking first rank as stallions.

First, take the case of Hyperion. His sire is Gainsborough, a winner of the English war time Derby, and the best colt of his year. 6 borough is by Bayardo, who Gainswas also the best colt of his year. Bayardo was out of a stake mare, Galicia, who became the dam of winners of nearly $500,000.00 in England, easily a record when made, Gainsborough himself was out of Rosedrop, a winner of England's premier stake for fillies, The Oaks.

Hyperion's dam was Selene, the best filly of her year and possibly the best three-year-old of her year. She was the winner of 16 races out of twenty-two starts at two and three. Scienc was by Chaucer, a good stake winner and a son of St. Simon and Canterbury Pilgrim, who was a winner of the Oaks, and a daughter of Pilgrimage, Pilgrimage won both the One and Two Thousand Guineas, and bred Jeddah, a winner of the Derby, Now Selene has bred something like EIGHT high class stake winners. Her dam also bred the great race mare Tranquil, and other winners of the highest class. The great granddam was Gondolette, who has become the foundation stone of a great dynasty. She was the dam of Sansovino, winner of the Derby and Ferry, winner of the One Thousand

From this constellation of great names on the track and at the stud, backed up by first class performance in his own case, it can be seen that Hyperion had every right to be one the greatest stallions ever known. It is, perhaps, too early to pronounce judgment, but it begins to look as though he will take rank with the giants of the breed such as St. Simon and Stockwell,

The same thing is true to a lesser extent in the case of Tourbillon, who was mentioned in these columns last week as the best stallion in France. His sire Ksar was one of the greatest horses ever seen in France. Ksar's sire Bruleur was a great winner of the Grand Prix and was out of a first class mare. Ksar himself was out of one of the two or three best mares ever seen in France, Kizil

Kourgan, winner of the French One Thousand Guineas, Oaks and Grand Prix, and the Prix Lupin, Her dam Kasbah won the French Oaks and vas second in the One Thousand Guineas. Tourbillon's dam was the best two year old of her year and her first three dams were high class

If like begets like, is it any wonder that the stock of Hyperion and Tourbillon is of such remarkably high standard? American breeders should take these examples to heart and breed from the best animals with the best ancestry. Breeding on the basis of hope and ignorance has left many breeders stony broke.

Washington Junior League Show
With the whole of Europe seething in War, Embassy Officials in Washington forsook their desks the past week-end to put in official appearances at the Junior League sponsored Washington Horse Show at Meadowbrook Grounds, near Chevy Chase, Md., and enjoyed one of the best Hunter-Jumper exhibitions in many a moon. In all but adjoining boxes were The Secretary of War and Mrs.
Harry Woodring, The Ambassador
from France, The Charge d'affaires from Germany and a member of the Polish Embassy.
Honors for the success of the Show

Honors for the success of the Show must perforce be given. F. Moran McConihe, Secretary, had an abundance of assistance, Still it was day and night for the realestater, who as "Mike" was erroneously credited with being at the Radnor festivities the previous week, in this column, when brother Malcolm "Mack" McConihe was in fact the fortunate escort of the charming Princess Serge Mdivani. "Mike" had lots of headaches and homework, yet he had inspiration, ye blithe horse-showspirit herself, in Deborah G. Rood, who proved of endless importance to the Washington event. As a Director this year, Debby incorporated her Wilmington Hunter Show, now in swing. She has endless enthusiasm, imagination and experience and the Washington boys were quick to catch on. Fenton M. Fadeley, also a Director, is a "jumper genius". He woke up in the nights thinking of gadgets to hold up bars and rails, and course layouts. The result: Washington Honors for the success of the Show to hold up bars and rails, and course layouts. The result: Washington Show's jumps and courses this year were the best ever.

Show's jumps and courses this year were the best ever.

Junior Leaguers Work.

The Washington Horse Show Committee of the Junior League included many who put strenuous effort back of the benefit. Mrs. John Selby was Chairman and omnipresent. Mrs. Lawrence Baker was Vice Chairman. With Mr. Baker, she entertained for the Exhibitors at dinner on Friday at their "Bakers' Acre." also the homestead of Griffith Warfield, perennial bachelor-beau of DeeCee Debutantes. (He came: to visit for a week-end 'most a score of years ago and still remains). "Bakers' Acre." is an entrancing country home, high on the Foxhall Road hill above Washington, only 10 minutes from the Capitol. Delightful photographs of the tennis-playing Lawrence Baker, Vice-Pres., of the United States Lawn Tennis Assn., and Larry Jr., show-ring riding on a great mare named Blue Bonnet, among others, grace the soiree-room walls. Larry is hoofing on Broadway now—(he got his fine riding seat from Julian Morris). Others of the J. L. Horse Show Committee included: Mrs. C. D. Hayes, Treasurer; Mrs. Buowndes Jackson, Secretary; Mrs. Eberhart Haynes, Program; Mrs. Laurence Green, Food, Mrs. George Morris, Boxes; Mrs. Ernest G. Warren, Publicity, whose splendid work may be somewhat traced to her well-known husband of Associated Press walks; Elizabeth Houghton, Ushers; Mrs. Aldace Walker, Prizes: Mrs. Louis Jeffries, Mrs. Marshall Exnicios, Mrs. W. Winston-Salem's Problem

Winston-Salem's Problem
Committee members of the Winston-Salem Horse Show have been frantically racking their wits during these last few days, what with only 142 stall accomodations and some 164 entries already listed and still more pouring in. The show, however, must go on and today is the day it begins, so the problem has probably been solved by now, James Guitar, of Warrenton, will do the judging both days and most of the horses that were at Sedgefield's show last week will be competing, including those of Mrs. D. N. Lee, Senator

Hunters And Jumpers To Vie At Reading

The Prize List of the Reading Horse Show contains 37 classifications made up of 11 children's, horse-men's, and Hunters and Jumpers classes. In the Hunters and Jumpers classification, practically every class found in any Horse Show program will be contested for at Reading.

Mr. F. Woodson Hancock, whose rm name is Sunwood Farm of Valley Forge, will again show Bond Street, who was last year judged the champion hunter, and retired the Reading Open Hunter Challenge Trophy. This trophy offered competition for at least 10 years. The conditions of this class make it nec-essary for the same exhibitor to win it 3 times. Bond Street will be exhibited again this year but he will be barred from exhibiting to qualify for the Challenge Trophy, inasmuch as the class this year is known as the "Bond Street Challenge Cup" which will keep this grand horse out of the competition.

Mr. Harold Leinbach will have his famous grey Cezare on hand to show what a real working hunter can do performing in the ring. Last fall, Mr. Leinbach's Cezare was first in a number of classes at the Radnor Horse Show.

Mr. George Brooke, 3rd, of Birdsboro has been exhibiting Check Book at Sugartown, Wilmington and then on to Devon and Reading, will be sure to give a good account of himself.

Most Fell off For Blue

At the Oaks Hunt Show, Mrs. Henry Obre claimed she almost fell Henry Obre claimed she almost fell off when she was given the blue because it had been so long since she had won one. At one time however, first prizes were a habit, showing her good Trillora Farm saddle horses. Qui Sait, out of Information, is the name of her attractive brown Covert and Hunter Hack winner. Maybe these two blues will revive an old regime in a new division.

Oaks Hunt Show

Oaks Hunt Show

Although the Oaks Hunt show was not limited to Amateurs, many were in the saddle. Mrs. E. A. Robertson, a picture aside on her smart grey Red Cap; Mrs. Gilbert Cooper on Miss Owen, Sylvia Regan on My Constance and Laura Niles on Lucky Marron, and these last three made a smart Hunt Team to win from seven. Ann Otterson, Hon-Whip., was there but since showing gives her the horrors, Althea Knickbocker took over the piloting of Poison Ivy and managed him in a fine manner. She, Charlie Bernuth, and Huntsman Jay made up the second team. Ethel Todd rode her Gay Play and Ronair Charlie Bernuth, and Huntsman Jay made up the second team. Ethel Todd rode her Gay Play and Bonair in the class for Ladies; and Mrs. Clair Workman and Mrs. Stanhope Foster were also riding. The Joint-Masters, Aubrey V. Gould and P. J. Knickerbocker, were so busy that it is doubtful if they even saw a horse, yet they had comfort of knowing that a good job had been well done.

Fred Hughes, Jr. Sends Black Caddy Over 6'-4"

—Darling Photo.

Fred Hughes, Jr., on Saturday, May 11, warmed up for the current season and the Washington Horse Show by winning the Arlington Show's High Jumping event. Mr. Hughes, Jr., wearing his Maryland University R. O. T. C. uniform, established a new Va.-Md.-D. C. record as he outdid Miss Margaret Cotter's ROCKSIE mark of 6'-3", set at the Washington Show last summer. BLACK CADDY is a versatile ring star; the sire of a number of hunters and jumpers, he performs consistently in Open Jumping competition. In his 6'-4" accomplishment, the 13-year-old son of TEA CADDY, went in as if to refuse and then popped over the bars.

Sensational Washington Open Jumper

XUM

Dr. and Mrs. Walter T. Kees, of New York have a sensational thoroughbred open horse in LEW DUNBAR, who took the Washington Horse Show Reserve Jumper honors last Sunday. He struck a fore-leg going out the endgate on Saturday and had to be retired from the Show, sacrificing further contention for Championship honors. Bought off the track, he is a 7-yearold by ROYAL CANOPY. Miss Bobbie Williams is shown up.
